Title
Not a Light Poem

Permalink
https://escholarship.org/uc/item/44z6v0k3

Journal
The Vernal Pool, 2(2)

Author
Garvin, Joseph F

Publication Date
2016

License
CC BY-NC-ND 4.0

Peer reviewed|Undergraduate
JOSEPH F. GARVIN
NOT A LIGHT POEM
Not a Light Poem

From a dirty window inside a mansion, the plane took off. Contained in a box with a light on top, the pilot steered upward to escape.

The light of the plane and the light of the box battled each other. Passengers (fish) and pilot (also a fish) alike pained by the light.

They escaped their world into the next. They wanted to explore the world, knowing the box made them blind. Now they suffer the pain of sight.